FUND MANAGER COMMENTARY AT 31 AUG 2020

The SA property sector had another poor month in August and it remains the focal pain point across South African (SA) investment categories, despite the relaxation of the COVID-19 induced lockdown from level 3 to level 2 in the period under review. As companies report results or provide updates, the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic becomes more quantifiable. Retail and office landlords are collecting approximately 70%- 80% of rentals, whilst the logistics and industrial experience seems much better (Equites is at close to 100%). The benchmark SA Listed Property Index (JSAPY) was down 8.6% for the month, with the three largest companies (by index weightings) - Growthpoint, Nepirockcastle, and Redefine recording share price declines of 8%, 11% and 22% MoM, respectively. There were very few hiding place with Equites (logistics) gaining 3.4% MoM and Fortress -A- (formulaic dividend calculation) up 3% MoM. Despite the 45% YTD fall in the JSAPY Index there is still much uncertainty around the timing of "normalisation", and what the period under lockdown had done for tenant capacity and expectations. In addition, there are ongoing discussions between stakeholders and regulators on what type of status relaxations in terms of dividend payment requirements will be granted to real estate investment trusts (REITs). However, even though the recovery may be patchy and not as rapid as we would have hoped, it would be too pessimistic to assume that we are not now somewhere near equity price lows in the sector. The fund returned a negative 6.8% for August, ahead of the peer group (-7.6% MoM) and the benchmark (-8.6% MoM), and it is also in the top performance quartile in the sector over one-, three- and twelve-months.
